Crisa is located in Tres Cantos, a town 20km North of Madrid, inside a business park called P.T.M. (Madrid's Technology Park or Parque Tecnológico de Madrid in Spanish). Tres Cantos can be easily reached by car or train either from Madrid or from Madrid-Barajas airport.

From the airport by car:

Madrid-Barajas airport has four terminals. Terminals 1, 2 and 3 are joined together, while Terminal 4 is a few kilometres apart. From any of these terminals, you need to drive towards a ring road called M40.

From Terminal 4, road signs guide you towards a toll road that goes to M40. It is easier to avoid the toll road and head first to Terminal 1, 2, 3 and from there, follow these instructions:

- Head to M40 when leaving the airport. When entering the M40 ring road, choose A1 and M607 direction (North).
- Once on the M40, drive for 6 kilometres heading towards M607. Take exit #57, keep right and take the M607 towards Tres Cantos.
- On the M607 road, drive for 8 kilometres and take exit #21 pointing Tres Cantos Sur / Parque Tecnológico de Madrid.
- Follow the two main lanes that turn right and left. Then, go straight on the first roundabout.
- Turn left on the second roundabout, going slightly uphill.
- Turn left again on the third roundabout to reach the PTM control gate.
- Turn right just after you cross the control gate. Crisa is third and last company on the left side.

Transport by taxi:

- From the airport: the journey would last around 25 minutes in normal traffic conditions and it would cost around 40 euros.
- From the city centre: the journey would last about 30 minutes for about 35 euros.

Ask the taxi driver to take you to Tres Cantos, taking the first exit to enter the town (Exit 21) and then follow the map towards P.T.M.

Transport by underground (Metro) and train (Cercanías):

From the airport T1, T2 and T3:

- Take the underground located on T2 and go to Nuevos Ministerios. At Nuevos Ministerios, exit the Metro and enter into Cercanias train area. From there, take a Cercanias train to Tres Cantos (line C4B towards Colmenar Viejo). It takes about 23 minutes and trains run every 20 minutes.
- There is a free shuttle bus from Tres Cantos train station to PTM business park where Crisa is located (about 3 minutes).
- Once at the PTM entrance, take the first street on the right and walk up to the left end (50 meters).
